

The Inside Job

Episode 8 | Connection: The Power of Partnership

In considering your relationships, connections and partnerships, keep in mind these 2 reasons why Partnership is essential to your life:

WE WERE CREATED FOR CONNECTION.

The core of your life mission, your life purpose, and the impact you were designed to make on the world, involves people. Meaningful connections are part of our purpose in life. It is the vessel by which we witness for Christ, share our stories with others, and draw people to God's love and light. The lessons we've learned, stories we've lived through, and what we're going through and grow through are not just for us, but others.

IRON SHARPENS IRON.

Iron sharpening iron represents accountability, refinement, and becoming better, sharper, and improving effectiveness through loving and growing relationships. Iron sharpens iron represents closeness and intimacy, to allow others in to see the real you and accept them sharing hard truths for your ultimate benefit and best interest and you do the same for them.
